From the President

Dave Wolfe
RSNC President

Let me be the first to wish each and every one of you a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year! That is hard to believe but since the next issue of the Ranch Sorter doesn't come out until then, I need to be letting that holiday spirit kick in. That isn't hard to do since things couldn't be better for RSNC.

I hope all of you had the opportunity to see the coverage we received on RFD-TV. If you didn't, you were in the minority because it seemed like half of the country did! We received hundreds of calls, and in just one week over 6,000 hits on the RSNC web site! Your participation in the RSNC membership drive has the attention of thousands in the horse industry. We are spot right on track to grow this sport exponentially with media coverage to the masses. We now have new contestants showing up at producer's events all over and new producers in 30 states plus interest in Hawaii, Italy and Australia! Hold on to your hats, because new friends are blowing in like crazy.

Big only works if we are prepared for big. So we have been working hard to plan ahead for the growth that is coming our way. The new RSNC software has been tested for almost a year now and thanks to our great producers that have helped fine tune it, we have a tool that can manage not only your events but also tons of data from events all over. It is the only possible way we can process the information needed to track win/loss ratios, points, horse winnings and rating changes with accuracy. It is becoming a must and that is why we are providing it free to all producers.

There have been some great events this fall and lots of positive feedback from our producers. Be sure to check out the forum page for just a couple examples. Thanks Shelly, Russell, LeAnne and everyone else who has written in with your kind words of encouragement! It's fun when it works and it is working great!

Speaking of that, let's welcome some new sponsors! Cinch shirts and jeans would make great Christmas presents and we are extremely excited to have Cinch on board. We have RSNC embroidered shirts in our new RSNC store just in time for your Christmas shopping! Be sure to check it out on the RSNC web site. We would also like to welcome Hydrahorse. They are looking out for our horse's needs by coming up with a great horse trailer watering system. WHY DIDN'T I THINK OF THAT! It is a must for all with our horses. We have a link to their web site on ours so put your horses first and look into this great innovation. Let's not forget Priefert, DreamHorse.com, Atwood Hats, Reinsman, Colorado Horse Trailers, Aztek Fence and Maynard Buckles. There are more sponsors coming, but only your support will keep them.

We now have new contestants showing up at producer's events all over and new producers in 30 states plus interest in Hawaii, Italy and Australia!

As most of you know we started a State Finals points race in January to reward contestants at the state level. Anyone can go to any state finals regardless of where they are from or how many points they have to compete for cash payouts. Those in the top 20 who are competing within their home state can compete for trophy RSNC jackets. These are great Cripple Creek Jackets that everyone was itching to buy at the finals but we said you have to win them and here is your chance. We have now ordered 500 Finals jackets to be awarded as prizes. RSNC branding will be everywhere because we want you and our producers to know we appreciate you at the state level also. So make sure you are in the top 20 in your rating category so you can hit the state finals with 20 to 1 points respectively. Then, if your state had at least five shows this year, six jackets will be awarded. If your state had 10 or more shows 30 jackets will be awarded. That's a jacket to each of the top five in each rating category.

Either way, there will be lots of great sorting going on at the end of the year and it will be fun to ring in the New Year with friends within this great Ranch Sorting family.

Once again, spend time with your family and have fun sorting thru the wonderful holiday season.

Happy Sorting!
Dave Wolfe

MEDIA COMES KNOCKING ON THE DOOR

In the past several months, good publicity has come knocking on RSNC's door, and knocking loudly, which is great news for the sport - and the organization." The sport of Ranch Sorting is not growing. It's exploding!" says RSNC President Dave Wolfe. Since 2007, the organized sport has experienced phenomenal growth, and continues today with nearly 3,900 teams at this year's finals. That's up 290 % from the first finals just three years ago.

Beginning several years ago, the American Quarter Horse Association introduced working cow horse and Versatility Ranch Horse events, leading the way for ranch sorting. In 2007, AQHA recognized Ranch Sorting as a point-earning event and every year since it has been AQHA's largest World Show event. Participation and growth spread rapidly.

Along with all the growth experienced and enjoyed by the organization, professionals in a wide variety of equine competition disciplines are taking notice too, and this year, they lined up for a chance to be part of the RSNC phenomenon, including high visibility television personalities Wide World of Horses, a TV show on cable television station RFD-TV, ran an entire hour long episode of their show on the 2010 RSNC finals held in Ardmore, Oklahoma. The producer and one of show's on-air hosts, Lee Schneider, realized that the sport was growing roots and taking hold in rural America. He decided to invest his production team's time and efforts into capturing the exciting events as they unfolded at the finals, and spent some time in an interview with Dave Wolfe. "You can go to any rural community and advertise this sport and people will show up and compete. It's a lot of fun!" Dave said.

Equally exciting, Aaron Ralston, producer and host of RFD-TV television show, 'The Ride' ran an hour-long episode as well. Aaron's show captures a glimpse of the modern ranch cowboy, highlighting tips, people, events, and how the ranch work translates into competitive horse sports. In May of 2010, Aaron and his production team saw the value of the growing sport so clearly that they not only produced the television episode, but even created a feature-packed DVD to further spread the word about this fun, family sport. Aaron said of the ranch sorting sport, "This is something that's very close and dear to my heart. Having grown up on a ranch, I appreciate the level of horsemanship and stockmanship that goes into it."

As if television wasn't enough, this October's edition of Western Horseman featured RSNC in a three page article. The magazine's editors clearly recognize RSNC as the leader of a great sport for the whole family and also highlighted its phenomenal growth over the years. The magazine's printed circulation of nearly 165,000 means that many professional horsemen, from ranchers, ropers and barrel racers to breeders, trail riders and enthusiasts have been exposed to the sport.

But it's likely that the article was preaching to at least some of the choir. As a member, you probably already know how much fun RSNC is, and that membership is huge. But did you know that in 2010 there were over 270 sanctioned events across the 48 continental United States? That's over 20 events each month. Aside from television personalities and well-known magazine publications, the valued membership itself knows that this organization is worthy of publicity. Thanks to you, our members, more and more horse loving Americans are getting out into the sorting pens and getting into the fun, fast-moving, family oriented sport of Ranch Sorting.

As you continue to enjoy the sport, invite your friends and spread the word about Ranch Sorting. Give the equine communities of the entire nation a safe, competitive, and strategic horse activity the whole family can enjoy!

RSNC SOFTWARE HAS MAXIMUM TRANSPARENCY FOR CONTESTANTS

The new RSNC software is proving to be an exceptional tool for both producers and contestants. Not only can our producers run their events more efficiently and accurately, but our contestants can now be more informed.

It is extremely important that contestants are assured they are charged correctly for the number of rides they rode and are paid correctly for their winnings. The RSNC software has made that process easy for our producers. Producers using the RSNC software now have an easy solution to being 100% transparent to their valued contestants.

We thought it would be important to explain exactly what the following 3 reports are so you understand that each report serves a purpose.

1. Final Payout List: This list is posted for contestants to see after a class has been completed. This list is available for viewing during the show, it will not be sent home with contestants.

2. Individual Rider Report: This report can be printed at the request of the rider and taken home. Please remember, if it is a big show or if you ride a lot, there will be several pages of this report.

3. Invoice for Show: This invoice is given to you to take home when you finished competing at the show. It is your opportunity to confirm your classes, money won, and money owed. This invoice will verify how much money you owe or if you get a check paid to you from the producer.

With this vital information we want you to go home with confidence,

RSNC MEMBERS FORUM

Dear Lisa and RSNC,

I find it a joy to work with RSNC's program, I feel confident that it is there and your charges will be just what you entered. It is a big relief to have confidence in a program like I have for RSNC's. I miss the paper/pencil method but this is so nice with the mandatory draws. I made it work before but you have gotten me spoiled to the program. I will do whatever I can to help you out with shows, the program or whatever arises you think I can help with. It is an honor to be considered. What time will you be in Amarillo: maybe we can meet up for dinner. There is a good Mexican food place close to the arena - good margaritas!

Shelly Shorb

I am always up for a good margarita. See you there.

Lisa

Dear RSNC,

We just wanted to thank you for making the new RSNC computer software available to your Producers (even shoestring operators like us). My wife and I put on RSNC sanctioned sortings in deep South Texas (Lower Rio Grande Valley) that we used to keep track of with pencil and paper. Using your software in our computer has made putting these on so much easier. What used to be hours now can be done and checked in minutes. If we ever have a problem (or just a dumb question) Susie, Dave, Marcy or Lisa are always available (even on weekends) and eager to help. Thanks once again for this great service.

Sincerely,

Russell & Ruth Klostermann

Hi Dave,

I just wanted to drop you a note and thank you for taking the time to develop the RSNC Ranch Sorting Software.

I have been using the RSNC Ranch Sorting software since it came out, at both small and large shows, and I will say whole heartedly, this is the complete package. . This software provides so much information with just a click on one of the main menu items. I am able to print out teams in a class by an alphabetical list or a class run sheet, projected payouts, and an end of the day financial report, again, with just a click on a main menu item. How easy!

For any producer the financial side of a program is very important. The ease of checking people out at the end of the day and entering the payments (or winnings) made by the contestant is fantastic. The ledger used in the rider invoicing provides a detailed way to keep track of payments for stalls and classes, as well as any other item that the contestant earns or pays for.

I have used other software programs and I have found this program is head and shoulders above them. This program was designed for any producer with or without software experience and I highly recommend it.

See ya down the road!

LeAnne Dingman

HILL AND BILLY

Hill: Well smoke my bacon!

Billy: What's up Hill?

Hill: Well wouldn't it be nice to know! I am plum pissed off cuz them hair-brained jugheads at the RSNC ain't even given us the time of day since back before the Finals.

Billy: I second that notion. My aunt Loula Bell even wrote and said she ain't herd hide nor hair of me all summer and she wuz about to send out the dogs.

Hill: Have ya been hearen whats a goin' on?

Billy: Have I ever! Ya know they had a hum dinger of a Finals and cuz uf that the cows have come home. I hear tell that every seed spitten cowboy and cowgirl in the country is a finding out about ranch sortin cuz they done went and got on RFD-TV.

Hill: Oh my Lord! They didn't!

Billy: Oh yes they did and not only once but twice and then their supposed to do it all over again this winter.

Hill: Oh my Lord !!!! Do they know what they is getting themselves into?

Billy: They say this has been their plan all along. They say if they can get the word out to all us and all our kin folk then the ranch sorting will sweep cross the county like chickens after a June bug.

Hill: Well guess they put that peg in the hole just like it should. Do you they think their ready for all the kin folk? I remember once momma invited all the kinfolk and it liked to made us have ta lock her up in the chicken coup for three weeks after cuz she got plum overwhelmed.

Billy: They say their ready. They got that new fangled computer deal that makes putting on sortings like rocking on the porch.

Billy: They say it also makes points and horse trackin a breeze

Billy: They say trackin dollars and earnins are now automatic

Billy: They say they can now take on hundreds of more producers cuz its all is as slick as a greased pig. And right now their phones are a buzzing like bees

Hill: All right all ready. Enough of that They Say malarkey. Sounds like you are talking bout Woodrow McCall the man of wisdom.

Billy: Yall and you just called them hair-brained jugheads. Don't that make you look real smart.

RSNC FINDS NEW WAYS TO GET THE WORD OUT

A whole new level of action for RSNC members. You just might get a phone call from John Wayne. Okay, so maybe it's not the real McCoy, but when you answer your phone and you hear him asking you to hold on for a message from RSNC, you better listen up.

RSNC headquarters tested a new, modern way to get the word out to Colorado and Wyoming members about the October RSNC event in Wellington, Colorado. An automated phone message went out to nearly 900 members about a week before the event, informing them of the dates, schedules, and prizes to be awarded. The members loved it, costs were reduced, and the attendance at the event was exactly what you would want – lots of people results in lots of fun and excitement.

Producers in all areas will soon be given the opportunity to begin using this service.

John Wayne may not have been very profound when he uttered, "A man's got to do what a man's got to do," but at RSNC we're some sharp cookies, looking for ways to meet your needs and increase your fun factor.

See you at the next event, Pilgrim.

RSNC CONTESTANTS SORT FOR AUTISM IN FORT WORTH, TEXAS

One day in 1988, a lean dark-eyed horseman was moved as he toured the Autism Treatment Center. The horseman was Bobby Norris, a former president of the American Cutting Horse. Bobby had an autistic daughter and was searching for an organization to receive the proceeds of a newly formed charity event he had organized. As the result of that tour, 1988 was the first year Bobby hosted the Bobby Norris Roundup for Autism. This renowned event is designed to raise funds for the Autism Treatment Centers; of Texas (ATC), a private, nonprofit, 501(c)(3) corporation that serves both children and adults with autism, and those who are multihandicapped. He has continued to host the event each subsequent year.

Bobby Norris Roundup for Autism is one of Texas' largest fundraisers for autism. This weekend event kicks-off with a full day of Ranch Sorting in an indoor arena and a VIP party in the heart of Fort Worth's Historical Stockyards on Thursday. The rest of the weekend includes a rodeo at Cowtown Coliseum, a black tie ball and two golf tournaments in the fall.

The Ranch Sorting event was introduced into this weekend event in 2009 and over 130 teams participated and raised over $16,000 for the ATC. For 2010 the number of teams increased to over 160 in spite of some very rainy weather. This Ranch Sorting is a RSNC Special Sanctioned event. The 2011 Ranch sorting will be held Thursday, September 8, 2011 and plans are currently underway for an even bigger event. An added bonus for next year's event will pair the winning Ranch Sorting teams with a celebrity team in the Team Penning event at the Friday night rodeo and there are also plans to include a Mutton Bustin' championship. Horse training clinics and working cow dog demonstrations will be conducted during the day on Friday.

DOUBLE R RANCH X 337 TEAMS = FUN!

The weather was perfect in Mounds, Oklahoma and a good Labor Day crowd was there to enjoy it. Six states were represented with the long haul award going to Bill Rose and Bob Becher along with their families from Illinois.

The fun event of the day was the Bareback Challenge. Annette Lee and Mary Ray challenged Van Gemmill and Vince Lee to a two run sort. Van and Vince arrived on saddled horses with the backs cut out of their shirts announcing they were ready to ride "bare back".

The ladies wouldn't go along and prevailed winning the traveling plaques.

Breast collars were awarded to Jeannine Gemmill and Greg Summers for the overall best five runs of the day.

PALM CITY, FLORIDA EVENT

At Linked D Cowhorses we ended our 2009-2010 season with a 2 day show. There was plenty of sun to go around for everyone and there was an abundance of heat!

We had a saddle series for the #2 riders and one for the #3 riders! We gave away 2 beautiful Vinton Saddles. The competition went down to the last show to determine the winners. Cheryl had to come down from a beauty pageant for her daughter to keep up her lead. She was able to compete, pick up her new saddle and head back to Orlando for the pageant finals! She had a busy couple of days; but I think she was happy with the outcome. Cheryl was the #3 high point rider. Ed Parks was runner up for the saddle. He took home a beautiful Maynard Trophy Belt Buckle. From our #2 riders: Kelsey Stasney topped the heap to take home a much needed saddle. So, it's a good thing the Vintons' ride in as good as they look; as she rides in hers all the time! We're very proud of how well Kelsey has done this past season. Dylan Greg was the runner up in the #2 saddle series. He too took home a beautiful Maynard Trophy Belt Buckle. The #4 riders rode for a Maynard Trophy buckle also. Roy Thomas was our season high point. Our shows wouldn't be the same without Roy around to liven things up!

We kicked off the 2010- 2011 show season on Oct. 2nd. Not much seemed to change from May. It was blasted humid and hot. Our calves were fresh and didn't take the stress well. I spent most of my day worrying about the cattle getting too hot! We had to take a lot of breaks to let the cattle cool.

Our numbers were maybe down a little bit to start off the season. Hopefully it was the heat and not the economy. I hate it when my friends can't come over to play! We ran 2 separate pens in 2 separate arenas at this show. We are trying to shorten up our show length. I want the lower # classes to be able to compete earlier in the day too. Since I use 4 sets of calves for the 3or4 lower classes and 4 sets of calves for the 3or4 upper classes; it was fairly easy to have both arenas go at the same time. It was a bit confusing for some of the competitors that have never done the back and forth thing; but I think they'll all catch on. We tried a new class this year. A #5 sorting with a 3 cap. It was very successful with 38 teams. To get the 3's to want to help the #2's, I added $ and 1st place buckles. It was a really nice class. Melissa Forte and Marcia Coker took home the buckles and a big chunk of cash; as I ended up adding $400 to the class since it turned out to have a good # of entries. Congrats to them!

Cheryl Kirton continued on with her winning streak from last year. She won the All Levels with Courtney Hutto and the #6 class with Danna McFarland. I think it's safe to say she's still on a roll!

Alice Murphy riding "Bubba"; our most favorite paint horse ever, won the beginner class. She had her buddy Tish Prine sittin' in the gate for her. Alice and Bubba are making an awesome match.

As always, we're making changes trying to have something for everyone at our shows. Sometimes it works and sometimes it doesn't?!

We're hoping for another great year in the sorting pen. This is our 9th year of putting on Ranch Sortings!! WOW where did all those years go?

Happy Sorting!

THE PERFECT SETTING FOR A RANCH SORTING – BURKESVILLE, KENTUCKY!

BY DAVE WOLFE, PRESIDENT RSNC

Just close your eyes for a minute and imagine what it would be like to attend a RSNC event deep in the heart of Kentucky on a beautiful fall day! I would envision colorful trees everywhere surrounding a pretty little valley with a new hard wood arena and a perfect 60 foot sorting pen. Then I would hope that there would be a quaint little cabin to spend the night in that may even have a fire place and a new horse tank to bathe in. Last I would hope for fresh cattle and an eager family oriented producer to be the host of the event.

Now open your eyes read this article below and make plans soon to go visit Kim Muer and her family at their new Kentucky home in Burkesville Kentucky. I am definitely planning to go myself!

This is just one exciting example of a flood of new producers all over the county that are signing up with RSNC to host events. This is the sport that will bring us all together in the equine industry because, just as this article shows, it is grass roots family oriented fun.

Let's Smell the Roses!

October 18, 2010

Hi Dave,

We have lived in Burkesville, Kentucky for six years. We moved here from South East Florida where my husband was a salt water fly-fishing guide and I am the owner of a silk flower and decorating business. We also boarded horses. It has been a dream of mine to be in the beef cattle business; a goal that I have worked on the past fifteen years.

Matt and a friend visited Burkesville to fish the Cumberland River. He returned from his trip enthusiastic about the country he saw. He called it, "God's Country" because of the abundant wildlife and the natural beauty of this area. We were in hopes of buying a few acres on the river and ended up with an old farm that needed some attention. We bought a mobile home and after staying here one summer, we decided to move.

When we lived in Florida, I would ride over at Debbie McFarland's place. We team penned together and then she introduced me to ranch sorting. I fell in love with the game right from the start! I liked the fact that it was a timed team event. I liked the idea of the interdependence between the riders, the horses and the cattle. I believe that it is a great family sport. Everyone from young to old can enjoy this game. I felt like it was a very affordable cattle event with a place for all levels of riders and horses. It is a sport with so much room for growth. I especially like the chance it gives people to be around beef cattle.

I searched high and low to find a place to sort and there was not much of an opportunity anywhere near here, so, we decided to build our own pens, but first we needed cattle and somewhere to put them. Debbie had talked about preconditioning cattle and the idea of it really intrigued me because I really wanted to have cattle I could work my horses on. We did not have any farming experience, so we spent a couple of years learning everything from fencing, pen design, feeder cattle health and nutrition, running tractors and their implements, forages... You name it. It has been a total lifestyle change and a welcome one. We have never worked so hard and never been so happy.

We built 60' sorting pens with a 12' gate. We installed crushed rock and topped it with a few inches of sand, so the footing would be adequate in wet weather, being that our facility is not under roof. The pens are well lit and this is really great when the weather is hot, we can work the cattle in the evening. I believe this will also come in handy if the shows run late.

The cattle and their well being is very important to us. We number more cattle than really necessary, so they stay pretty fresh. We buy heifers, so that is what we ride on.

I have had a handful of practice sortings with a small number of participants and spectators. This has given me the opportunity to offer adequate parking, room for spectators, concessions and cattle flow. I want my first sanctioned show to make a good lasting impression. I would appreciate any suggestions.

I do not have stalls, but I have several pens that are not covered along electric fence turnouts. I also have 10' Priefert panels for temporary stalls. There is a really neat bed and breakfast approximately 4 miles away with 8 stalls in a nice barn and beautiful accommodations in a log house setting. Their website is www.hiddencaveranch.com. The Riverfront Motel is ¼ mile from our facility and is a nice clean motel on the river with a pool. There is a grocery store, Pizza Hut, and Dollar General right next to it.

We have some electric and water hook ups and welcome camping. We have a great 5 mile trail ride that wraps around our farm through the hills.

We are 2 hours from Louisville, Kentucky and Nashville, Tennessee. We are 2 ½ hours from Lexington, Kentucky and Knoxville, Tennessee. We are 1 ½ hours from Bowling Green, Kentucky. The roads are pretty good from all these places.

Debbie McFarland has been a great resource of information for me. She introduced me to RSNC and she has really helped me learn about doctoring calves.

We have hosted a couple of field days for the University of Kentucky field days. I was the President of the Clinton/Cumberland County Cattlemen's association last year. I am also serving on the county board of directors for the Kentucky Farm Bureau. We have attended the Kentucky Cattlemen's Association Convention the last two years. My son and I attended the NCBA convention in San Antonio last year. We attend many other beef conferences throughout the year. I really love to learn and better at what I am doing. I really believe in the beef cattle industry and the promotion of agriculture. I feel that it is really important to expose people to farming and animal agriculture. I believe it is an industry that needs to be protected and promoted.

In November, we are hosting a morning and afternoon session for the local high school agricultural class. We will run some calves through the chute, demonstrate vaccinations and castration. We also plan on doing a ranch sorting demonstration. Although there are many cattle in this area, very few people handle their cattle with horses and I think this will be a great opportunity to demonstrate what ranch sorting is.

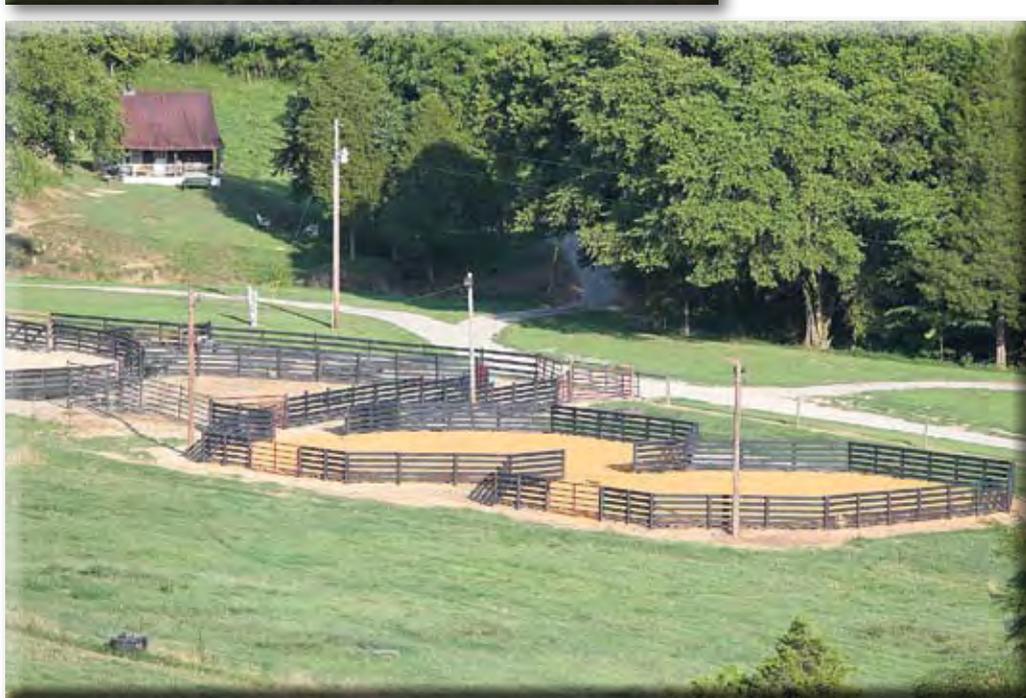

I would love for you to attend our first RSNC event.

Thank you for your time and attention. I know you are busy.

Kim

STATE FINALS ARE COMING YOUR WAY!

That's right. Many states that have hosted RSNC events are making plans to host a state finals just for you. Be sure to check the RSNC web site to see if your state is on the list. I would like to take just a minute to explain some of the details.

First, RSNC is supporting the state finals with RSNC trophy jackets to high point winners of the year long State points race. The producers who hosted events with the most teams for the previous year up to the RSNC finals had 1st opportunity to host the finals.

Second, points have been earned by contestants since January at all sanctioned events they attended. Those points determine your position in the top 20 of each rating category. The categories are Beginner, Rookie, Novice, Amateur, Open and Masters. If you moved from one category to another during the year the appropriate points moved with you and you will compete at the finals within your current rating category. Once at the finals you will enter with a point advantage based on your top 20 standings with 20 points for 1st down to 1 point for 20th. Those points will be added to points won in the finals classes to determine the State Champions in each rating category.

Third, in states that had at least 5 sanctioned events jackets will be awarded to the State Champion in each rating category. Those states that had 10 or more sanctioned events will receive jackets for the top 5 point earning contestants in each rating category. That's 30 jackets awarded!

Fourth, there will be sample jackets to try on for appropriate sizes with order forms for the winners to fill out. A total of 500 jackets have been ordered and will arrive at the RSNC office in November. As soon as we receive your size your State Championships jackets will be mailed!

Last, we at RSNC want everyone to know that anyone can attend the State finals and compete. We do appreciate all contestants and producers support to help this great sport grow. The State Finals is a great way to bring all contestants together for what will surely be the largest events of the year.

720 RANCH SORTING TEAMS AT OKLAHOMA STATE FAIR!!!

The 2nd Annual State Fair of Oklahoma RSNC Ranch Sorting took place September 19th and 20th at OKC State Fairgrounds. 720 teams competed for over $28,000 in cash and prizes. 94 points were awarded to contestants in 2 double judged AQHA Ranch Sortings. Everyone competed in front of a lively audience that applauded every cow that was sorted. Those black heifers stayed even and ornery through both days of competition. We were finished each day in plenty of time to go check out the other exhibits at the fair, grab a corndog, win a teddy bear on the midway or ride the merry-go-round. If you weren't there this year make plans to come next year, you won't be disappointed. We will have a great time!

Special Thanks to all who attended this year!

THAR'S RANCH SORTING SEPTEMBER 11

The September 11th kick-off to the Thar's Ranch Sorting series in Gillette, Wyoming, was a day of commemoration and celebration. The sorting started off with a moment of silence and the song "Where were you when the world stopped turning." By Alan Jackson, to pay honor to all the people lost on September 11, 2001. To follow was the first sort by Denny and Gae Selting to celebrate their marriage this summer. Later in the day Kevin Speer and Claudia Hershey, and Shawn and Leah Hochhalter, two other Thar's Ranch sorting couples that were married this summer joined in with wedding cake and champagne. It was a great day full of friendship, fun and 187 runs. Congrats to all of our Class winners! Thanks to all our sponsors Thar Angus LLC, Front Runner Hubbard Feeds, Powder River Tire Inc, N-Line, Vern's MFG Inc, Quality Aggregate, Thar's Feed and Ranch Supply, Kissack Water & Oil, Animal Medical Center of WY, and Robertson's Transport. Most of all thank you to all our contestants! Hope to see you October 23rd in Gillette; come and earn cumulative points for end of the series prizes in May.

RSNC SORTING CONTINUES TO GROW IN SOUTH TEXAS

There are a great bunch of RSNC supporters in south Texas that continue to do it up right RSNC style. Thanks to producers Russell and Ruth Klostermann, the ranch sorters have great venues to have fun on the weekends. The shows are big even when it is hot and that is a testament to Texas Tough cowboys and cowgirls. Just wait until the weather breaks and watch them kick up their heels!

RSNC CONTESTANTS HAVE BIG HEARTS IN MISSOURI!

Karen Drees of Centerville Missouri hosted a very special event to benefit a little baby within the RSNC family. Little Quinton pictured below just 11 days after his second heart surgery is nothing short of a little angel that has touched the hearts of everyone that has met him. It is for that reason that a special RSNC sanctioned event was scheduled to be a benefit to help raise money to cover some tremendous doctor bills. Special guest and RSNC supporter Aaron Ralston showed up to help promote the event and nearly $7000 was raised. Great job Missouri!
